Preparation

German Cockroaches

Pesticides and their application are regulated by the Environmental Protection Agency of the Federal Government. No pesticide may be applied in a food handling area that will contaminate food or utensils (pots, pans, glasses, plates, forks, etc.) that come in contact with food. Those items must be removed and covered. There is no exception to this law.

Due to the nature of the materials used to control cockroaches, complete control may not be achieved for approximately three weeks following treatment.

TO RECEIVE THE MAXIMUM BENEFITS OF OUR SERVICE, PLEASE FOLLOW THE INSTRUCTIONS BELOW:

1. Please be prepared to vacate for at least four hours following treatment. When you return it is best to ventilate by opening windows.
2. Remove all contents of kitchen and bathroom cabinets. Stack contents in a room other than the kitchen and bathrooms and cover with a sheet, blanket, or similar material.
3. Remove all kitchen drawers from the kitchen and cover. Please make sure that drawers and their contents are clean before returning them.
4. Do not return materials to kitchen or bathroom cabinets until material has completely dried. Additionally, do not clean cupboards with wet materials until control has been established to ensure that active material is not removed.
5. Remove contents of closets if closets are infested.
6. When chemicals are applied according to their label, risks are within limits found acceptable by state and federal government regulatory agencies. Please keep children and pets from the immediate area of application while service is being rendered and until the chemicals have completely dried.
7. If you have a fish tank you must cover it with a towel, sheet, or similar material, and turn off all aeration equipment until material is dry.
